Starrah, folks!

We won the debate !!!

One of the girls up against us ~~was~~ has had lots of experience in debating & another has had two years of college out in Ohio. And we green-horns who had never been in a formal debate before beat them. The three judges handed in separate decisions and the result was 2-1 in favor of the negative — which is us. Stappy? No word for it! Now I can look forward to home without that debate looming up in front of me.

I missed the choir party which Mr. Macdougall gave for us last night, and therewith missed an awfully good time. But I am so happy that I could help win for 1917 that I don't much care what else I miss.

Thanks a lot, Daddy, for that ten dollars. At present, it is reposing in our class treasury among other fire-fund donations.

I leave here ~~Friday~~ <sup>Thursday</sup> night, "Chap" and I have a section together & expect to have a grand time.
Mabel has ordered a berth in the same car, and another bunch from Ponteroy is going on that train. I reach home on the 3:02 ~~Friday~~ P. M. Am I an-nois! Oh no!!! Nothing like that.

Lots of love,

Eleanor
